History of the Institution In 1946 the Department of Education urged the management to start a Secondary Teachers' Training School to make up for the dearth of educators in South Canara. The pioneer batch of 26 students gave a whole hearted response to the methodology and teaching practice and walked out with a cent percent result in the Board Examinations. This served as an impetus to continue the new venture on a permanent service basis. The college has seen novel changes and experimentations in curricular as well as in methodology in keeping with the new and constantly changing trends in the field of education. It has carved name and fame for itself down the years through dedicated service to the nation.
